Syed Azmatullah and Mamood Ahmad in Dialogue at IATE

April 22nd on zoom 10am to 3pm

This day will provide a heartfelt opportunity to explore issues of cultural competence in therapeutic practice, psychotherapy and counselling for students as well as qualified and experienced practitioners.

This will include critical enquiry into the role of power dynamics in therapy including awareness of equality, diversity and intersectionality, unconscious bias, anti-discriminatory and anti-oppressive practice.

Syed Azmatullah is a core process Buddhist oriented psychotherapist and former Chair of UKCP with a long history of experience working with organisations and is informed by affective neuroscience.

Mamood Ahmad delivers education, training and consultancy for individuals, groups and organisations in the Anti-Discriminatory Focus TADF (tadf.co.uk) with the aim of transforming services to be embedded with socially conscious, diverse and inclusive practice.
